

LEGISLATIVE REQUIREMENTS

It is important to ensure your property complies with current legislative requirements to avoid potential risk involved with non-compliance. New legislation is implemented in an effort to minimise potential loss and as the professional in the industry it is our role to inform you of your requirements to comply.

Following is a check list of requirements which must be met prior to marketing your property: -

- ✓ Residual Current Devices (RCD)
- ✓ Hardwired Smoke Alarms
- ✓ Minimum Level Security Standards
- ✓ Curtain and Blind Cord Safety

Fact Sheets are included in this guide to assist you with preparing your home to meet legislative requirements.

Prior to marketing your property, we require a full compliance check to be completed at your property. This minimises the risk of litigation and ensures you meet all legislative requirements. Please see the following Anetic Solutions Pty Ltd information guide on their services. We recommend this is done annually to maintain your compliance.
